

NEW YORK DANCERS — David Gordon and Valda Setterfield, of Grand Union, an avant-garde dance company, will perform at 8 p.m. Thursday at Gallery A of the University Art Museum. Tickets cost $3 and are available at the door. Gordon's work includes improvisation, interactions with chairs, wastebaskets or other objects, and conversations with imaginary persons. He has performed in Tokyo, Washington D.C. and at numerous galleries and dance theatres in New York City.

The Liveliest Arts