THEY'LL NEVER AGREE ON WHO HAS THE BEST SKIING.
JUST WHO HAS THE BEST CAR.

In Aspen and Vail, ski conditions are usually terrific.
Which means driving conditions aren't.
So it's not too surprising that police in both communities drive Saabs. In fact, nothing but.

With its front-wheel drive, 15-inch wheels, Pirelli radials, and even, in some models, a heated seat, Saab gives these Colorado
Police a big advantage over winter.

Not to mention other drivers.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS DANCE THEATRE

The Colorado Springs Dance Theatre was created to bring nationally prestigious dance companies to our community to perform and teach. During their half-week residencies in Colorado Springs, professionals from each of these companies make their talents available to our community by teaching master classes to our young dancers, holding open rehearsals and participating in educational programs which are open to all.

In five years, attendance to programs has grown from 250 to over 6,000 participants. Contact with these outstanding artists continues to inspire our dancers and further acquaints our community with the broad scope of American dance from the creative beginnings through the polished performance.

Welcome to our sixth season, featuring the Clive Thompson Dance Company, the David Gordon PickUP Company, and the return engagement of the North Carolina Dance Theater. We are grateful to the Colorado College Leisure Program for helping to make this full season of dance possible.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS

The Dance Theatre Guild, an enthusiastic group of able and very dedicated volunteers, is a vital support group for the Dance Theatre Board of Trustees. Through their various fund raising, educational and social functions, Guild members contribute significantly to the Dance Theatre, becoming actively involved with its programs and resident companies.

The Guild's major fund raiser is its Annual Poinsettia Sale, held prior to the holiday season. Proceeds from the sale benefit the Dance Theatre. In addition, the Guild annually participates in Springspree.

During each residency the Guild hosts a luncheon and discussion with the Artistic Director of the dance company as guest speaker. The public is cordially invited to attend.

This season the Guild will host a reception for the Clive Thompson Dance Company and Dance Theatre patrons.

Guild officers for the 83-84 season are: Loralee Stephan, President; Sally Young, Secretary; Diane Pankau, Treasurer; and Delores Gustafson, Program Chairman.

The Guild meets the last Friday of each month at noon. We enthusiastically welcome all who are interested in serving and growing with dance in Colorado Springs. Please call the office, 630-7434 for a schedule of Guild activities, and for more information.

Master class with Salvatore Aiello of the North Carolina Dance Theater.

MASTER CLASSES

As a part of each residency, the Dance Theatre sponsors master classes taught by members of the visiting dance company. These classes are open to all dancers and students in the area. Master classes offer dancers from our community the opportunity to experience the wide variety of dance techniques and styles used in training and in choreography, and to gain a more complete understanding of each visiting artist's particular approach to dance.

Each season, over 200 dancers participate in classes in ballet, modern, and jazz technique, and in repertory and composition. The Dance Theatre has also offered movement and agility classes for athletes, and classes in design of stage lighting have been offered to theatre classes and performing arts groups in Colorado Springs.

This season, classes will be taught by Clive Thompson and members of his company on November 3rd, by members of the David Gordon PickUP Company on January 26th, and by Salvatore Aiello and members of the North Carolina Dance Theater on March 15th.

Due to limited enrollment in all classes, reservations are necessary. For more information, call the Dance Theatre Office, 630-7434.

The Second Season...

COLORADO COLLEGE LEISURE PROGRAM

The Leisure Program came into being with the inception of the Block Plan at The Colorado College in 1970-71. It was established in an attempt to integrate constructive and innovative leisure activities with the academic life of the campus as well as to make a viable umbrella organization to better coordinate campus functions.

The Leisure Program is comprised of seven sub-committees which range in interests from arts and crafts to outdoor trips to our Performance Series. Each of these sub-committees is co-chaired by a faculty and student member to make the Leisure Program truly a campus-wide program both in a participatory manner as well as in the initial planning stages of an event.

The Co-Curricular committee is the particular sub-committee that selects and plans the Colorado College Performance Series.

The dance performance series is our first joint effort with the Colorado Springs Dance Theatre and we are delighted to help in bringing these three fine performances to Colorado Springs.

NOTES ON THE PROGRAM . . .

The Pick^Up Co. is a concept which allows me to work with the numbers of people that I need for any given project and in some instances to build a project around the numbers of people at hand. It is meant to be expedient, economical, and to keep me on my toes.

At its inception, the ensemble of performers in the Pick^Up Co. was not fixed. Since then, though the number of dancers has varied on a project-by-project basis, a "core" company has emerged with whom I rehearse, perform and tour regularly.

Each performance is a collage; overlays and juxtapositions that may or may not have had the same relationship as before, organized to suit the performance space and circumstances we encounter. I am trying to have my cake and eat it too. Reportory without predictable format.

I think of my work as an ongoing process in which the materials I work with reappear under new circumstances. I support changes in context, the freedom to re-examine, to alter, to abandon materials or to re-use them for a good laugh at myself and my world. Keeping the options open extends the life span of a work and my interest in it.

NOTES ON THE PROGRAM . . .

David Gordon began making dances in the wake of Merce Cunningham's revolutionary choreographic experiments of the 1940s and 1950s. He has always been an outsider, even in such rebellious company as the Judson Dance Theater group, a collective of dancers, musicians, and artists who broke with accepted notions about dance, art and performance in the early 1960s. Gordon, by nature, is a critic. His work both presents and comments on itself. He is often lumped together with a generation of "post-modern" choreographers for lack of a better frame of reference for his work and because his individuality resists classification. It is true that the material he uses — pedestrian movement, for example, and his use of repetition — has a kinship to that of other post-moderns. But Gordon is at heart a vaudevillian, a weaver of yarns, a composer of riddles, a magician confounding expectations. The basis of his work is movement. Photographic images, video, and, most important, the spoken and written word are collaborative elements. From these materials Gordon constructs dance anagrams whose meaning and tone shift rapidly.

Historian Sally Banes has compared Gordon's work to that of a cubist painter, noting his lamination of image, movements and words. Others have remarked on the inseparability of life and work in his performance pieces.

The material David Gordon has chosen to present this evening will strike chords of recognition in us about relationship and isolation, commitment and separation, and about the difficulty of seeing ourselves and each other as we "really" are.

WE NEVER SOLD A VOLVO THAT WAS WORTH SO MUCH.

Of all the Volvo sedans that ever came down the pike (444, 544, 120, 140, 240, 260), the all-new Volvo 760 GLE is a standout.

First, and least important, the 760 GLE looks more rakish and less Volvo-ish. The aerodynamic design reduces drag to a point that's lower than the Porsche 928's.

More important, the Volvo 760 GLE has been through ten years of design, development and testing, a longer proving period than any other Volvo ever went through.

Before the 760 GLE was designed, parts-and-service experts were asked to specify exactly what they wanted in order to make servicing the car easier and faster.

And unlike some car makers who go from clay models to factory production, Volvo went from clay to full-size wood models to production. It's more expensive but it also produces steel body panels that fit precisely and a tighter car overall.

Volvo went to great lengths to test the 760 GLE: 2,000,000 miles in Scandinavia, North America, Australia and Europe.

Finally, when the 760 GLE was ready for the assembly line, Volvo didn't race it through. The same quality considerations that went into its design go into its production.

In all, the 760 GLE is the best-built Volvo ever. As for handling, performance and comfort, you be the judge. Take a test drive soon. We think your evaluation of the car will be higher than the valuation we put on it.
